Sydney network

The Superloop network is securely connected to 15 of the key data centres in Sydney

The Sydney network is the biggest network Superloop has in Australia. It has 3 distinct campuses: North Ryde, Alexandria and the CBD. Each campus has diverse connectivity to provide protected paths without leaving the campus. The campuses are linked by a core network ring allowing for diverse services between campuses. On top of the buildings within each campus, the core network ring also includes a number of key Exchanges with the potential to easily reach some alternative strategic buildings as well.
